

Urban Scholars

Work with Axiom Education on the Wild Coast of South Africa and be part of the Rural Education Revolution!!! Situated in the vibrant community of Zithulele Village on a breath-taking stretch of coastline, Axiom works with historically disadvantaged schools to create opportunities for student success. Join our dynamic team of teachers, volunteers and local staff as we do more for rural students in 2014.

Do you speak isi-Xhosa? Do you love maths? Are you considering a gap year?

Apply to become our Urban Scholar for 2014. We are looking for two dynamic, Xhosa-speaking, urban 'scholars' (either studying or intending to study or recently graduated) to lead our Khan Academy and Sports Development programmes.

The Khan Academy role requires:

- High levels of personal organisation;
- Energy and dynamism in front of a class of Grade 7-9 students;
- An interest in teaching and young people;
- Fluency in isi-Xhosa;
- A love for and competency in mathematics;
- An openness to adventure and rural life.

The Sports Development role requires:

- An aptitude for working with teachers and schools;
- Capacity to plan and manage sports leagues;
- Fluency in isi-Xhosa;
- The ability to coach Touch Rugby and other sporting codes;
- The ability to lead and mentor student-coaches.

These positions are covered by a stipend covering basic travel and living expenses for the year. For more information or to apply, please email craig@axiumeducation.org with your CV and a one page motivation outlining why you would be the perfect 'Urban Scholar'.

Growing talent and opportunity in rural Africa.
